

ZHOU MIN

Panel 4: Cuisine: Legacy, Transmission, Transformation

Professor, Head, Sociology Division, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Nanyang Technological University

ZHOU Min, Ph.D., is currently Tan Lark Sye Chair Professor of Sociology, Head of the Division of Sociology, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, and Director of the Chinese Heritage Centre, Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore. She was Professor of Sociology & Asian American Studies and Walter and Shirley Wang Endowed Chair in U.S.-China Relations & Communications at the University of California, Los Angeles, USA (1994-2013). She was the President of the North American Chinese Sociologist Association, Chair of Section on Asia and Asian America of the American Sociological Association (ASA), and Chair of Section on International Migration of ASA. Prof Zhou's main areas of research include international migration, immigrant integration/adaptation, the new second generation, ethnic/racial relations, ethnic entrepreneurship, Chinese Diaspora, and Asia and Asian America, and she has published widely in these areas, including 17 books and more than 170 journal articles and book chapters (with over 15,800 Googlescholar citations and a Googlescholar h-index of 46 as of 30 November 2015). Her newest book is The Asian American Achievement Paradox (with Lee, 2015). Currently, Zhou is working on three projects: "Inter-group relations and racial attitudes among Chinese locals and African merchants in Guangzhou, China" and "Chinese immigrant transnationalism."