

Gábor TAMÁS

Gábor is a professor of neuroscience at the University of Szeged. He has been educated in Oxford and was one of the very first ERC grant holders. His research focuses on the structure and function of cortical neuronal circuits with an aim of understanding the elementary mechanisms underlying cortical information processing. Gábor has published widely on Science, Nature and other leading journals on the above topics.

<http://www.tamaslab.org/>